Test error versus training-set size